

SPECIAL SESSION ENDS
ON SATURDAY EVENING

AFTER JUST SIXTY DAYS
PHOENIX, April 16.—The extraordinary session of the Fifth legislature is now a part of the political history of Arizona. It adjourned sine die, shortly after 6 o'clock last night at the end of a perfect sixtieth day and at the end of the third appropriation for legislative expenses.

The senate won over the house for its version of the general appropriation bill at almost every point after the measure had gone through two conferences. The house saved a point in its effort to wipe out the office of immigration commissioner, and the restoration of a part of the $5,000 it had appropriated for the legal expenses of the tax commission. There was left in the bill for that purpose $2,500.

The senate retained the National Guard with an appropriation of $65,000 and secured an added appropriation of $3,000 for the state fair, bringing that item to $75,000. That gain was made in conference.

Few See The End.

Nearly all sessions of Arizona legislatures have ended in the night time amid festivities. As it was expected that this rule would be followed, there was a light attendance throughout the day. There were none of the usual closing scenes. In an interim in the afternoon Mr. Gilliland offered a resolution conveying the appreciation of the house of the courtesy and fairness of Speaker Keefe. Another by Mrs. Bush expressed the thanks of the legislature to the newspapers which furnished member free copies throughout the session.

Mr. Hays offered a resolution directing the appointment of Sergeant at Arms John E. Newberry to assist in the "clean-up" work, that is in the bringing up of the records of the session, at a pay of $6 a day.

Mrs. Bush opposed the resolution as a needless expenditure. Mr. Betts and Mr. Hays believed that the money would be well expended and the former stated further that he was moved to favor the resolution by the courtesy and tact which the sergeant-at-arms had displayed throughout the session. The resolution was adopted.

Everything else had been put out of the way before the receipt of the conference report, so that when it had been adopted and the usual notification committees had been appointed to notify the chambers at the opposite ends of the corridor and the governor of the readiness to adjourn, and after the committee had reported, the gavel at 6:15 o'clock fell for the last time in the first special session of the Fifth legislature.

ARIZONA HIT BY BILL
NOW IN CONGRESS

PHOENIX, April 17.—Arizona road construction will be hard hit if the house roads committee has its way in Congress over the provisions of the federal aid appropriation bill. Under the present federal aid plan the government places a limit of $20,000 per mile as to the amount of federal participation, and this amount is raised to $24,000 per mile for Arizona and other public land states. According to information received by the state highway department from Washington it is proposed to reduce this figure to $12,500 per mile for next year and $10,000 per mile thereafter.

According to the latest information of federal aid legislation, the house committee on roads has merged the Woodruff and Robinson highway measures into what will be known as the Dunn bill and reported the new measure for passage.

An appropriation of $65,000,000 is authorized for the next fiscal year and $75,000,000 for the year following, with an additional $6,500,000 for forest roads. Should the measure pass the house in its present form a fight on the reduction of federal participation per mile is anticipated in the senate.

ASHURST-HAYDEN
DAM DEDICATION
SET FOR MAY 10

FLORENCE, Ariz., April 16.—The great diversion dam in the Gila river known officially as the Ashurst-Hayden dam, will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies on the 10th day of May. Several speakers of national reputation are expected to be on the program, and it is planned to make the occasion one of the greatest in the history of Arizona.

It is quite likely that Secretary Fall of the interior department will be present as the personal representative of President Harding, and deliver the chief address. Arrangements are now under way to secure other speakers of equal prominence to participate in the dedicatory ceremonies. If it be possible to arrange it, President Harding will be asked to make a short address to the crowd by use of a long distance or wireless amplifier.

Work on the dam was begun February 14, 1921. The irrigation project to be developed under the diversion dam alone consists of 62,000 acres of land. Of this acreage, 35,000 is allotted to the Indian reservation below Florence, and 27,000 acres of lands belonging to white settlers around Florence and Casa Grande. Of the 27,000 acres awarded the white settlers, 17,500 acres lie in the Florence district of the valley, and 9,500 acres in the Casa Grande district.

The dam itself is 410 feet long and 240 feet in width, and is the first large dam of the pure Indian weir type constructed in the United States on any stream of consequence. The canal gates and headworks are all on the south side of the river, the north side canal being fed by a tunnel or bore through the superstructure of the dam itself three and one-half feet in diameter.

There are ten canal gates of the skimming type, which feed into the main canal on the south side. This canal has a capacity of 1,000 second feet. The dam, headgates and canal are of a size and are so constructed as to take care of the diversion system under the great San Carlos storage reservoir when that shall have been built.

Big delegations of prominent Arizonians are expected from Phoenix, Tucson, Nogales, Prescott, Mesa, Chandler, Globe, Miami, Tempe, Glendale, Tombstone, Douglas and Bisbee. The dedication of the Ashurst-Hayden diversion dam is going to be the biggest event in the history of Arizona for some time to come.

COWBOY HELD AS A COUNTERFEITER

PRESCOTT, April 15.—Whether Robert E. Mills, cowboy from Bly ranch near Humboldt, found 100 counterfeit silver dollars in a partly rotted sock, or whether he himself fabricated the coins, will be determined by trial at the coming session of the federal district court here under U. S. Commissioner J. A. Renoe.

Arrested in Jerome Friday, Mills yesterday was brought to Prescott by Harry Carlson, special officer for the United Verde Mining company. According to the prisoner's story, he went to Jerome from the ranch Friday to look for work, carrying with him about 70 silver dollars, 20 of which he offered Roy Gallison of the Jerome meat market in exchange for a $20 bill. The coins were accurate reproductions and had a good ring, but their lightness aroused Gallison's suspicions. Officers were communicated with and Mills was arrested later in another store.

The cowboy claims that he found the coins in a partly rotted sock at an abandoned mine near Humboldt. They were rusty, he said, and he polished them by rubbing them on his trousers.

Mills came to this part of the country a short time ago from Los Angeles, where he had been working, he said, as an automobile mechanic. He married recently in Prescott, following his arrival at the Bly ranch as a cowboy and he and his wife settled down on the ranch. It is the theory of the authorities that the silver dollars Mills attempted to pass were made by himself.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR LINEMAN

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., April 17.—Sunday morning D. M. Peyton, lineman for the Postal Telegraph Co., was returning from Winslow on a motor-driven hand-car. When near the Johnson ranch, just east of town, the car jumped the track and Peyton was thrown between the tracks, becoming unconscious. He lay there for some time before recovering when he managed to walk to Johnson's. He was severely injured about the head, losing part of his scalp.

It is supposed he was trying to reach town ahead of No. 9, which came along shortly after he had regained consciousness, and failing to see the hand car, ran into it and demolished it.

He was removed to Mercy hospital, where he is resting easy.
